Fall 2015 Adderley Lecture (Steve Locke and Mercedes Sherrod Evans)

The fall 2015 Adderley Lecture will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 10th in the Tower Auditorium. The lecture will focus on Clennon L. King's documentary film Passage at St. Augustine. The film tells the story of the pivotal role that St. Augustine, Florida, the oldest city in the United States, played in the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and of the Movement as a whole.

A Community Reception will be held in the West Tower Lobby at 5:30pm. The film screening will commence at 6:15pm in the Tower Auditorium, followed by a panel discussion moderated by Callie Crossley from WGBH Boston.

After watching a clip of the film, the group discussed possible ways to internally and externally publicize the Adderley Lectures in the future and options of how to reach and attract a broader audience.

Design and Media Center Opening (Claudia LeClair and Susie Stockwell)
