Welcome to MassArt's Human Resources Wiki site.

This section of the Wiki is designed to provide information about MassArt employment, benefits, retirement, professional development, training, labor relations, employee engagement, wellness, and much more! Please see the column on the left for a directory of current items and check back for updates. This information is not intended to substitute, replace, overrule or modify any existing federal or state law, agency rule, regulation, policy, and/or collective bargaining agreement.

Our faculty and staff are our most valuable investors and resource in providing the best educational experience for MassArt students, and the HR office is here to support the MassArt employee community. We welcome your feedback. Please send your comments and suggestions to HR@massart.edu.

Career Opportunities

MassArt's Human Resources Department is committed to attracting and retaining a talented, innovative, collaborative, inclusive, and student-centered workforce. Our campus community is valued for their professional, community relationships, and cultural contributions.

For prospective MassArt employees, the Career Database lists information about all available positions at the College and enables job applicants to submit their materials online.
